FROM THE NORTHWARD.

Sch. Cavalier Arrives with Big Trip of Halibut.

New Craft Has Made Big First Year's Record.

Sch. Cavalier, Capt. Robert Porper, arrived this morning with a fine fare consisting of 55,000 pounds of halibut and 10,000 pounds of salt cod.

The craft sailed from here April 8, and did not find good fishing at the start. She used up her baiting and Capt. Porper decided to go to the Magdalenes for a fresh baiting and try to get to the northward, a favorite fishing ground of his at this season of the year. The baiting was secured and two weeks ago this morning they made their first set up off the Bird Rocks.

A week's fishing netted the fine trip stated above and the craft started for home. It was impossible to get out by St. Paul's island and around Cape North on account of the great barrier of ice, so the craft was obliged to hug the Magdalenes and come as she went, through the Strait of Canso.

Capt. Porper saw no other halibuters where he was fishing, but spoke some of the salt bankers. The latter had been unable to get to Scatteri and on the Cape North grounds on account of the ice, and were fishing off Limbo Cove and from there were strung out quite a ways to the westward.

It is a year ago yesterday since sch. Cavalier started on her maiden trip. In that time she has been on a salt trip, a Newfoundland herring trip and several halibut trips, which with the proceeds of this fine fare will give Capt. Porper the fine stock of about $27,000 for his first year's work in the new craft. This is a splendid record and in keeping with the fine work which Capt. Porper has done year after year.

The Cavalier met with a mishap on the homeward voyage, being run into last night by one of the market fishing boats whose name the crew were unable to ascertain about 20 miles off Cape Ann. The accident was not serious and the Cavalier escaped with her mainsail torn. The other craft was apparently not damaged.

Knowing what sch. Fannie Belle Atwood can do, the owners of the Susan and Mary do not consider a trial trip necessary, and yesterday she was fitted out with trawls and provisioned, and this morning will sail for Boothbay, where she will take ice and bait and then go for her first trip shacking. After her return from this trip she will go into the market fishing.

The Susan and Mary makes the eighth vessel the Boston Shipping Company has in commission in the fishing fleet, and it has two more almost ready to launch. On June 10 they will launch at Essex sch. Georgianna, and about the middle of July from the same yard will launch the auxiliary sch. Elizabeth Silsbee. Sch. Georgianna, it is said at T wharf, will be commanded by Capt. Freeman Mason, now in charge of sch. Richard Wainwright, and sch. Elizabeth Silsbee will sail under Capt. Joshua W. Stanley, now in command of sch. Lizzie M. Stanley.

Sch. Natalie B. Nickerson, Capt. John S. Seavey, arrived at Newport yesterday afternoon with 3000 fresh mackerel in count.

Sch. J. W. Latham was at New Bedford Tuesday with 200 fresh mackerel taken off Block Island. The weather there continues bad.

The netters off Newport report that lots of small dodfish have made their appearance.

Fresh mackerel brought 22 cents each at New York yesterday. Sales at Newport were 20 cents each.

SEIZED 3500 SHORT LOBSTERS.

Maine Fish Warden Makes Large Haul.

A Maine fish warden seized 3500 short lobsters at Cliff Island, near Portland yesterday. No one was taken into custody, but if the guilty parties are caught the penalty is $1 per lobster.

HAD 128 FISHERMEN ABOARD.

All Hope Abandoned for French Vessel and Crew.

A cable from St. Servan, France, yesterday says:

All hope has been practically given up here for the safety of the three-masted sailing vessel Cousins Reunis, which left this port 80 days ago for St. Pierre, Miquelon, off the coast of Newfoundland. She had on board 128 fishermen, and great grief prevails here among the missing men's families, who have begun to put on mourning.

Herring at Chatham.

A despatch to the TIMES this afternoon says there are 400 barrels of herring at Monomy, Chatham, and 40 barrels of squid daily.

FINE CRAFT.

Added to Fleet of the Boston Shipping Co.

This Concern Will Have Ten Vessels by Fall.

The handsome new Boston sch. Susan and Mary, which was rigged and fitted here and sailed for her home port Monday afternoon, was inspected by hundreds at T wharf, Boston yesterday. She is for the Boston Fishing Co. from lines furnished by McManus.

The newcomer is one of the largest of the fishing vessels in size, and measures 121 feet 6 inches in length, 24 feet 2 inches beam and 11 feet 7 inches in depth of hold. She is fitted out with 10 dories and will carry 22 men, including the captain. Wilfred Roberts, who was in the sch. Fannie Belle Atwood with Capt. Henry Atwood, now agent for the Boston Shipping Company, will command the new vessel.

IN HEAVY GALE.

Stray Fishermen Had To Run Dory Before It.

Craft Kept Afloat Only with the Greatest Difficulty.

In regard to the rescue of two of the crew of sch. Puritan of this port the Sydney, C. B. Post of May 23 says:

"The Newfoundland fishing schooner Prospector of Grand Bank, which arrived in port this morning, brought in Paine Hewitt and William Boulrot, two of the crew of the Gloucester schooner Puritan, who strayed from their vessel on Quero Bank on the morning of May 9. The Puritan left North Sydney for the banks on May 7, after obtaining a supply of bait, and two days later while the two men were attending their trawls, a gale sprung up and they were unable to reach their vessel.

During the night the wind attained hurricane force and Hewitt and Boulrot were obliged to run before it to save it from being swamped. As it was she was half filled with water several times and it was only with the greatest difficulty that the little craft was kept afloat till the gale moderated.

The following morning a heavy fog set in which lasted till late in the afternoon and when it cleared off the French fishing schooner L. H. B. was sighted, which picked them up. They remained on the French vessel until Friday last, when they fell in with the Prospector, which brought them to this port.

Herring.

The Chubb's Island trap took 25 barrels of herring this morning.

BIG FLEET OF NETTERS.

Busy Fleet Out South Numbers Fully 150 Sail.

List Comprising Names of Nearly All This Fleet.

Few people realize, when they read daily reports of the netters arriving at New York and Newport with fresh mackerel, how many of these little crafts there are at present setting their nets for mackerel at the present time, all the way from Fire Island to Breton Reef lightship.

As near as can be figured, this fleet today numbers between 150 and 160 sail, comprising crafts all the way from little four or five ton sloops to schooners of seventy-three tons and also several little steamers and gasoline boats and some few little schooners fitted with gasoline auxiliary power.

Nightly these crafts set their long fleets of nets, all the way from 40 to 130 to a boat, and if these were all set out in a joined long row, they would stretch surely from Newport to New York and perhaps farther.

These boats are manned by crews of all the way from 3 to 14 men. They generally get good fares in return for their hard work and make their market at New York, Newport and New Bedford. Prices are generally good and generally good stocks and shares are made and the boats close the season when the mackerel have gone by Cape Cod with good round sums to their credit.

Herewith we print a list of some 135 of this busy little fleet which is now doing fairly well out south.
